

Job Description: Massage or Beauty Therapist & Spa Receptionist (m/f/d).

About Ashoka Ayurveda:

Ashoka is the Sanskrit word for "Free from worry". Ashoka is the one who gives pleasure to others. Ashoka is being, knowledge and bliss. Therefore, we have chosen the name as our leitmotif, because joy and happiness have been experienced by our guests with our treatments and care since 2007. Our spas and treatment centre can be found in unique and beautiful locations. They specialise in the 5 elements of nature, traditional knowledge, teaching, and healing. To achieve our goal of rediscovering the true nature of our self, we work with the ancient healing art of Ayurveda.

- You work independently and reliably, with high standards of quality.
- You have a sense of responsibility, neatness, and accuracy.
- On days with high guest traffic, you can work calmly and are resilient.
- Language skills: English (fluent in speech and writing); German & Portuguese as well as other languages are advantageous.

Your tasks:

- Conveying and embodying the Ashoka philosophy.
- Welcoming and looking after guests in the wellness area.
- Professional performance of spa – beauty and Ayurvedic massages.
- Advising our guests on the possibilities of applications and sales products.
- Creating a pleasant atmosphere for the guest, before and after the treatment.
- Reception services and training other colleagues in reception tasks.
- Booking treatments and vouchers.
- Assisting with the control of stock in and out.

- Ensuring order and cleanliness.
- Restocking towels, bathrobes, and other consumables.
- Opening and closing rounds in the SPA.
- Turning on and off the saunas and other technical equipment.

We offer:

- An attractive workplace that combines work and relaxation.
- Personal career plan and numerous development and training opportunities.
- Fixed-term contract with the possibility of a long-term, permanent contract.
- Performance-based remuneration.
- Support with finding accommodation if needed.
- Workwear.
- Discounts at all Ashoka locations and associated hotels.
- Highly qualified & friendly colleagues.
- Exciting and varied work environment due to the variety of restaurants and event opportunities.
